

Planes of Development
 Traditional Education is based on the assumption of linear development.

Montessori Education is geared to the peaks and valleys of human development.

